

Chapter Four: Historic, Cultural & Scenic Resources

I. HISTORIC & SCENIC RESOURCES

Preserving historic, archeological, and scenic resources enables communities to retain links to their past, maintain their traditions (including quality of life), and can bring economic benefits through increased property values and tourism. Indeed, there are federal and state programs to assist communities with preservation. Tourism has been increasingly beneficial for much of the New England region, and particularly for Vermont due to its abundance of scenic resources. The Northeast Kingdom is fortunate to have communities that have already identified some of their assets and protected a significant number of historic resources. These include historic districts, a large number of historic buildings, archeological sites, covered bridges, barns, and areas of natural or scenic beauty. Despite the work that has already been done, there are many historic, community buildings and meeting houses still in need of restoration and preservation. Table 4.1 gives some representation of the existing historic and cultural resources within the region. For more information on individual properties listed on the state and national registers, go to <http://orc.vermont.gov/Resource/Show-Resource-Table.aspx>

Each historic district also contains a number of properties listed on, or eligible for the National Register.

1 Historic Preservation Programs and Assistance

2 Criterion 8 of Act 250 protects scenic and aesthetic resources, historic sites, and rare or irreplaceable natural
3 areas. A historic site is defined as "any site, structure, district or archeological landmark which has been
4 officially included in the National Register of Historic Places and/or the state register of historic places or
5 which is established by the Vermont Advisory Council on Historic Preservation as being historically
6 significant." [10 V.S.A Section 6001 (9)]. If a site has been nominated, then designated as historic, the state
7 provides a number of programs for communities and groups to help achieve their preservation goals.

8 The State of Vermont Division for Historic Preservation has a number of resources on its Web page
9 explaining the programs available for historic and cultural preservation efforts, information, and technical
10 assistance. http://accd.vermont.gov/strong\_communities/preservation These programs are available to 11 communities, neighborhoods, individuals, and businesses and provide many benefits.

12 Other Regional Resources

13 Local area Chambers of Commerce can provide much of the information on business & industry, schools,
14 housing, local attractions, and services available in or near a municipality. Table 4.2, below, is included as a
15 resource for additional information.

23 II. CULTURAL RESOURCES

24 Public Libraries

25 The Northeast Kingdom is fortunate to have many library resources as centers of learning (many of which are 26 architecturally significant) to complement the region's educational systems. It is important to keep all of these 27 facilities updated to meet the informational and technological needs of area residents.

6 Museums

7 Museums are another excellent cultural and informational resource, as well as a link to the distant and recent
8 past. There are many museums in the Northeast Kingdom worth visiting and popular ones include the Old
9 Stone House Museum in Brownington; the offbeat Bread & Puppet Museum in Glover; and the Athenaeum,

1 Fairbanks, and Maple museums in St. Johnsbury. Each of these has a wide array of exhibits and programs for
 2 all ages. Table 4.5 lists the region's resources for historic information and museum collections.

5 GOALS AND STRATEGIES FOR HISTORIC, CULTURAL & SCENIC RESOURCES

6 HISTORIC, CULTURAL & SCENIC RESOURCE GOALS

- 7 • Future development should follow traditional development patterns, while providing for economic 8 development opportunities and livable communities.
- 9 • Significant historic, cultural, and scenic resources within the region should be identified and 10 preserved.

11 HISTORIC, CULTURAL & SCENIC RESOURCE STRATEGIES

- 12 • Promote local and regional tourism, since it is an important part of our economic base.
- 13 • Assist communities to preserve and maintain historic downtowns, village centers, buildings, and rural 14 and scenic landscapes.

- 1 • Rehabilitate and re-use significant cultural, architectural, and historic sites, and community facilities,
2 whenever feasible.
- 3 • Promote local traditions, skills, crafts, and the performing arts within the region.
- 4 • Utilize federal, state, and local programs for developing or preserving local cultural and historic 5 assets.
- 6 • Disseminate information about historic tax credits to businesses and property owners.
- 7 • Assist communities to designate downtowns and village centers under the Vermont Downtown
8 Program.
- 9 • Support local cultural resource initiatives to revitalize communities and downtowns.
- 10 • Assist municipalities with securing funding and technical assistance to conduct a comprehensive 11 survey of local historic resources.
